I Complete the gaps with A, AN, THE or nothing (/) One of worst holidays I've ever been to was last one. I took very good friend with me and everything was supposed to be perfect. We booked hotel through reliable website and hoped for best. things were going great by time we arrived at airport – weather was fantastic, we were in good mood and people on flight seemed nice too. As soon as we caught taxi, we realized it was not going to be as easy holiday as we had hoped. driver spoke no English and it took us hours to find right hotel. When we finally reached address, we were horrified. hotel we booked looked nothing like one whose photos we saw online. windows were dirty and garden was full of cats and their toys, there was even dog swimming in pool. rooms were no better – dirty, with old furniture and horrible smell, so we decided to find someone to complain to. It turned out that hotel would be closed following year anyway and no one wanted to help. We just had to put up with it bit longer, as they said. What nightmare! II Use the word in the brackets to rewrite the sentences so that the meaning stays the same as in the first one.
