

Will vs. Going to

I Complete the interview below with the correct form of the verbs in brackets:

Adam:	So when _____ you _____ (launch) the new video game?
Josh:	I cannot tell you the details, but as we are in the final testing stage it _____ (be) very soon, so I hope no unforeseen problems _____ (occur).
Adam:	_____ any unforeseen problems actually _____ (occur) in your opinion?
Josh:	I _____ (do) my best to avoid them.
Adam:	Rumour has it that you _____ (step down) as the Game Design Director as soon as this project is finished. Is that true?
Josh:	I'm afraid it is true. I _____ (leave) Game.A.Tron, but I don't know yet what position I _____ (take up) next.
Adam:	I'm absolutely sure the competitors _____ (try) to recruit you with all their might.
Josh:	Perhaps you are right, but I _____ (make) any definite promises right now, I _____ (spend) a year as a guest lecturer at Full Sale University and after that I _____ (decide) on my next big project.

II Underline the correct option in the sentences below:

- Who do you think will win / is going to win the match? – The Saints, of course!
- What have you decided about the concert tonight? – Don't be mad, but I will stay / am going to stay at home.
- I believe everyone will appreciate / is going to appreciate this new opportunity.
- Do not worry, my secretary will contact / is going to contact you as soon as we have some information.
- We have come to a difficult decision – we will sell / are going to sell the company.
- The next time she makes a mistake such as that one, she will get fired / she is going to get fired.